Description:

Chill-out system by Tacchini has been designed for both habitat and public spaces. It can be a single element or a modular composition with various shapes and dimensions. The thin and elegant proportions express lightness with its light, metallic base supporting the simple, clean and comfortable volumes. Sofas, armchairs and benches can be integrated with small square and rectangular tables realized in white Carrara or Basaltina marble always in mat finish. The metal frame is available in satin chrome or epoxy coated versions.
