Description:

The Kalahari cabinet is a multipurpose storage cabinet. An intricate herringbone pattern is applied with a hand tool on the doors through a demanding, labour intensive process by the craftsmen and women of Mabeo in Botswana. This expertly hand applied pattern results in a motif that is organic, yet precise. The Kalahari cabinets are available in numerous different sizes, ranging from a double door cabinet to a custom made 6 door cabinet, or longer. A different height option that allows for the Kalahari cabinet to be used as a standard size kitchen cabinet is also available. Shelves and optional internal drawers further add to flexibility of use, resulting in a cabinet that is versatile and functional. Available in Panga Panga wood or white oak.
